1. Our Services

The Services provide private, clinician-facing and patient-facing features to support test booking, delivery of test results, prescription management, and secure notifications. The Services are designed to enable private communications between users and healthcare professionals, to allow users to send pre-written medically accurate notification templates to specified recipients, and to facilitate administrative interactions with clinics and laboratories. The Services do not provide public posting, user-to-user social feeds, or public comment functionality.

You are responsible for ensuring that your use of the Services complies with all applicable laws, regulations, and professional guidance in your jurisdiction.

2. Intellectual Property Rights

Our intellectual property

We or our licensors own and retain all right, title and interest in and to the Services and the content provided by us (including, without limitation, software, visual interfaces, graphics, design, compilation, information, data, text, images, and trademarks) (our "Content"). Except for the limited licence expressly granted below, nothing in these Terms grants you any right, title or interest in any of our intellectual property rights.

Limited licence to use the Services

Subject to your compliance with these Terms, we grant you a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable, revocable licence to access and use the Services for your personal, non-commercial use and to receive the healthcare-related services offered through the app. Any other use is prohibited unless expressly authorised by us in writing.

Your rights in your content

To the extent you provide or upload any personal content or data to the Services (for example, profile information, health information you input, or messages you send to healthcare professionals using the app's private messaging/templates), you retain any intellectual property rights you have in that content. We do not claim ownership of that content beyond the limited licence set out in Section 5 (User Submissions and Feedback) for necessary operation of the Services.

3. User Representations

By using the Services you represent and warrant that:

- You are at least 18 years old. The Services are not intended for children under 18.
- You have the legal capacity to enter into these Terms.
- All information you provide to the Services is accurate and up to date.
- You will use the Services in compliance with all applicable laws and these Terms.

If you provide any false, inaccurate, or incomplete information, we may suspend or terminate your account and refuse further access to the Services.

4. Prohibited Activities

You agree not to use the Services to:

- Post, publish, upload, or transmit any content intended for public display or sharing with other users in a social or feed-like manner (the Services do not support public user-generated content).
- Use the Services for unlawful, fraudulent, or malicious purposes, including attempting to impersonate another person.
- Attempt to access, interfere with, or damage any other user's account or data, or the systems or networks connected to the Services.
- Circumvent, disable, or otherwise interfere with security features of the Services.
- Transmit viruses, malware, or any other harmful code.
- Use automated means (bots, scripts, scrapers) to access or interact with the Services except where expressly permitted by us.
- Use the Services to send unsolicited bulk messages, spam, or promotional communications.
- Remove or alter any intellectual property or proprietary notices on content provided through the Services.
- Reverse engineer, decompile, disassemble, or attempt to derive the source code of the Services.

We reserve the right to investigate and take appropriate action against you if you violate these prohibitions, including reporting you to law enforcement.

5. User Submissions and Feedback

Limited communications only

The Services do not provide public posting features. The primary user-originated communications the app supports are:

- private, templated notifications that a user may send to a specified recipient (for example an email to a partner) where the user's personal email is not revealed to the recipient; and
- private questions, messages, or requests sent to healthcare professionals or clinics through the app's secure channels.

These communications are private and are not viewable by other app users except the intended recipient(s) and authorised personnel (for example clinic staff) involved in delivering the requested service.

Feedback

If you voluntarily provide feedback, suggestions, or ideas about the Services ("Feedback"), you retain ownership of any intellectual property rights in that Feedback, but you grant SafeX a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, royalty-free, transferable, sublicensable licence to use, reproduce, modify, adapt, publish, translate, create derivative works from, distribute, and otherwise exploit such Feedback for any purpose (including improving the Services). You represent that any Feedback you provide does not violate any third-party rights.

No assignment of moral rights

To the extent permitted by applicable law, you agree not to assert any moral rights in any content you provide that would prevent us from using or modifying it as permitted in this Section.

6. Services Management

We reserve the right to:

- monitor use of the Services for compliance with these Terms;
- refuse, restrict, suspend, or terminate access to the Services for any user who violates these Terms or whose use may harm the Services or other users;
- remove data or content that violates these Terms or is otherwise objectionable, at our discretion;
- perform maintenance, introduce changes, or discontinue all or part of the Services.

7. Term and Termination

These Terms remain in effect while you use the Services. We may suspend or terminate your account and/or access to the Services at any time for any reason, including for violation of these Terms. Upon termination, your right to use the Services ceases immediately.

Sections that by their nature survive termination (including, but not limited to, Intellectual Property, Disclaimer, Limitations of Liability, Indemnification, and Governing Law) will continue in full force.

8. Modifications and Interruptions

We may modify, update, or discontinue the Services (or any part thereof) at any time without notice. We will not be liable for any damages or losses resulting from such changes or interruptions. We will use reasonable efforts to notify users of material changes via the app or by email where appropriate.

9. Governing Law and Jurisdiction

These Terms are governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England and Wales. You and SafeX agree to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales to resolve any dispute or claim arising from or in connection with these Terms or the Services.

10. Dispute Resolution

Informal dispute resolution

If a dispute arises, please contact us at support@safex.com and provide details of your complaint. We will try to resolve disputes informally and promptly.

Court proceedings

If we cannot resolve the dispute informally within 30 days, either party may bring a claim in the courts of England and Wales as set out in Section 9. Nothing in these Terms prevents either party from seeking urgent injunctive relief in any court of competent jurisdiction.

11. Corrections

The Services may contain errors, inaccuracies, or omissions. We reserve the right to correct such errors and to change or update the Services at any time without prior notice.

12. Medical Disclaimer

The Services provide information, appointment booking, results delivery, and private communications with healthcare professionals. The information provided via the Services is for general informational purposes only and is not a substitute for professional medical advice, diagnosis, or treatment. Always seek the advice of a qualified healthcare professional regarding any medical condition or treatment.

SafeX is not a healthcare provider. Where the Services connect you to clinicians, clinics, or laboratories, those third parties are independent and may have their own terms, privacy notices, and professional responsibilities. We are not responsible for the clinical decisions, diagnoses, or treatments provided by such third parties.

13. Disclaimer

The Services are provided on an "as is" and "as available" basis. To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, we disclaim all warranties, express or implied, including warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, and non-infringement. We do not warrant that the Services will be uninterrupted, error-free, or secure, or that any defects or errors will be corrected.

14. Limitations of Liability

To the maximum extent permitted by law, in no event will SafeX, its affiliates, officers, directors, employees, agents or suppliers be liable for any indirect, incidental, special, consequential or punitive damages, including but not limited to loss of profits, loss of data, or business interruption arising out of or in connection with your use of or inability to use the Services, even if advised of the possibility of such damages. Our aggregate liability arising out of or in connection with these Terms shall not exceed £500 or the amount paid by you to SafeX in the 12 months preceding the claim, whichever is lower. Some jurisdictions do not allow limitations of liability; if that law applies to you, some or all of the above limitations may not apply.

15. Indemnification

You agree to indemnify, defend and hold harmless SafeX and its affiliates, officers, directors, employees and agents from and against any claims, damages, obligations, losses, liabilities, costs or debt and expenses (including reasonable legal fees) arising from:

- your use of and access to the Services;
- your violation of these Terms;
- your violation of any third-party right, including any intellectual property, privacy, or other proprietary right;
- your communications with others through the Services.

16. User Data

We maintain certain data that you transmit to the Services for the purposes of operating, providing, and improving the Services. You are responsible for the accuracy and content of any data you provide.

We perform routine backups of data, but you are responsible for maintaining any copies you require. We will have no liability for loss or corruption of your data except to the extent caused by our gross negligence or wilful misconduct.

Use of personal data is governed by our Privacy Policy, which is incorporated into these Terms by reference. The Privacy Policy explains, among other things, how to access, update, and request deletion of your personal information, and how to exercise your rights under applicable data protection laws. If you are a UK resident you may also lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO).

17. Electronic Communications, Transactions, and Signatures

By using the Services and providing contact information, you consent to receive electronic communications from us (including notices and disclosures). You agree that all agreements, notices, disclosures and other communications we provide electronically satisfy any legal requirement that such communications be in writing.

18. Miscellaneous

These Terms, together with any documents expressly incorporated by reference, constitute the entire agreement between you and SafeX concerning the Services. If any provision of these Terms is held to be invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions will remain in full force and effect. No waiver by SafeX of any term or condition shall be deemed a further or continuing waiver of such term or condition.
